

Responding to Sexual Behaviors Scenarios

- 1) Claire, a sixth grader, discloses to you that someone is sharing inappropriate pictures of Lydia, another sixth grader in school. She thinks she knows who it is but doesn't want them to get in trouble.
- 2) You are the recess monitor for the elementary school. You see two kids sitting on the grass and calmly looking at each other's genitalia.
- 3) You are the recess monitor for the elementary school. You see a fourth grader pulling down the pants of a first grader and laughing.
- 4) A high-school junior, who is 16, tells you how excited she is about her new boyfriend, who is 20.
- 5) When picking up their 4th grade daughter from school, you see a father aggressively grab his daughter to hug her when the daughter obviously doesn't want that. The next day, he does the same, and you notice his hand slide across her bottom. The following day he makes a disapproving comment about her outfit being too revealing.
- 6) While talking about private parts a student proudly proclaims, "I have a vagina!" How do you respond?
- 7) You observe one of your students drawing pictures of sexual activities. How do you manage the situation?
- 8) A teacher in your school walks by the classroom while you're teaching about personal boundaries. In the teacher's room your lesson comes up and another teacher proclaims: "When I was growing up, we had to do whatever our parents said. I used to have to hug and kiss all my old aunts and uncles and I'm fine. What's the big deal?"
- 9) You are a kindergarten teacher, and you have one student who keeps putting his hands down his pants. It looks like he is touching his penis. This happens multiple times a day.
- 10) You are a middle school teacher, and you walk past a student in the hallway showing two other students sexually explicit videos on their personal phone.
